MBTS Alert is the Seminary’s mass notification system, which uses a variety of methods to contact students, faculty and staff in the event of an emergency or school closing.

Why Subscribe

MBTS Alert allows you to receive urgent notification where and how you want, even if you’re away from campus or your computer. When subscribing, you'll be able to select multiple contact methods, from text messages and emails to phone calls. The Seminary will send notifications to the contact methods in the order that allows for the quickest delivery.

MBTS Alert will only be used in the following situations: immediate threat/violent situation on campus, security alert, Seminary closings, severe weather alerts, emergency situations of an extreme nature and periodic testing. The system will not be used for advertisements, marketing messages, or to communicate campus or community events.

Other Notification Mechanisms

In addition to the Missouri State Alert notifications, the University may also warn the campus community through other methods:

- Two-way radios
- Vehicle public address speakers
